Re: Maya Chen, DOB 1993-03-14

Assessment

HSG February 1 confirms bilateral spill. Ovulatory pattern, unremarkable pelvic ultrasound and partner semen assessment support unexplained infertility. No confirmed PCOS, endometriosis or tubal obstruction.

Discussion

Reviewed continued attempts, three to four cycles of oral ovarian stimulation with IUI as a usual first treatment, and IVF. Couple elects IVF after discussion of costs, injection burden, procedural risk and alternatives. They understand that response and live birth cannot be guaranteed. No IUI cycles undertaken.

Plan

One antagonist stimulation cycle planned for June. Conventional IVF and freeze-all strategy selected, with elective single frozen embryo transfer after recovery. No PGT planned. Continue folic acid.
